

Data Flow

The application collects user input through the frontend, processes it in the FastAPI backend, communicates with Gemini models and Stable Diffusion, merges the generated content into a comic layout, displays a preview, and exports the final comic as a PDF.

