

System Architecture

The ComicCraft application follows a modular architecture integrating a web frontend, FastAPI backend, AI models, and a PDF export module. The user enters a story prompt, character, setting, tone, and art style. FastAPI coordinates Gemini Flash to create a comic outline, Gemini Pro to generate narration and dialogue, and Stable Diffusion to create panel illustrations. The Layout Builder assembles the comic and the Export Module generates a downloadable PDF.

